PRICE THREE CENTS

STRIKES!

A Fight Results at Columbus, Ohio.

The Studebaker Works Resume Monday With a Satisfactory Adjustment of Wages.

The Texas People Protest Against the Railroad Strikers and Gould Likes it.

A FIGHT

Comes out of the Columbus Strike.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—The company ran one car over the line under the requirements of the charter to-day. The police assisted, and on the return trip the men endeavored to take possession of the car but were clubbed off by the police. One man was badly bruised. The mayor made a speech to the men, assuring them of his sympathy as long as they indulged in no violence. The mayor is not inclined to allow further police interference.

FARM HANDS STRIKE.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 19.—In Pettis and Saline counties the farm hands have demanded an increase of from $15 per month and board to $20 per month and board and have got it. The organization is to be perfected and the projectors hope to have the demand become general throughout the state.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 19.—The citizens held a meeting last evening and protested against the substitution of the boycott and the prostitution of law and resolved that any unwarranted interference with the railroads of the state should meet with the condemnation of everyone.

STUDEBAKER STRIKE SETTLED.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Daily News South Bend, Ind., says: "A settlement of the Studebaker strike is about completed and work will be resumed Monday at a satisfactory adjustment of wages."

TROUBLE AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 19.—The street car employees have demanded twelve hours for a day's work exclusive of one hour for meals, two dollars a day for drivers on box cars and a sufficient reason for the discharge of every man. They request an answer by Tuesday.

INTERNAL WAR.

MILWAUKEE, March 19.—The Trades assembly adopted a resolution last night denouncing the Knights of Labor for the destruction of their cigar label in opposition to the wishes of the international union.

JAY GOULD LIKES IT.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 19.—The reports of the action of the Dallas Merchants' exchange and the citizens of Greenville, Tex., in passing resolutions denouncing the strikers were forwarded to Jay Gould here and he has just forwarded a telegram thanking the citizens for their kind words of encouragement and good advice.

He said the entire business of four states and one territory were completely paralyzed and millions of resident citizens are deprived of railway facilities on which their entire prosperity depends, and to the enjoyment of which they have legal rights regardless of any secret organization.

O'Connor as "Othello."

It was not a large house which greeted Mr. O'Connor at the Academy last night, but it was at times a very enthusiastic one and his performance of "Othello" appeared to afford them much pleasure. It was quite evident that the role is not as well suited to his style as others in which he will appear during his engagement, still he gave a careful and well studied performance. Mr. O'Connor will no doubt be seen to much greater advantage in "Richelieu" and "Shylock," which he gives to-day and to-morrow. His support was in most instances good, particularly of Desdemona of Miss Marion Wallace. There is an almost universal demand for "Shylock" to-morrow evening, and it will probably be given then. There will be a matinee to-morrow afternoon.

Auditor Griebel, this morning, appointed Louis Schroeder, the ex-druggist, as assessor of Wayne township to succeed Henry Hitzman, who resigned on account of ill health. Mr. Schroeder is an active young man, thoroughly schooled in English and German, and a good business man, and he will make fair appraisement of city property. He filed his bond in the sum of $3,000 with J. F. W. Meyer and C. L. Schroeder as sureties.

The county commissioners adjourned yesterday to meet again April 15, and then settle with the outgoing trustees.

GRAHAM'S GUSH.

He Would Gladly Welcome a Mob Which Would Put an End to All.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 19.—Witness Brumley again took the stand to-day and his examination was resumed. No important testimony was given by him, excepting that he corroborated the story of Charlie, implicating Cora Lee and Mrs. Malloy.

The preliminary trial of Mrs. Emma Molloy and Cora Lee goes slowly on at Springfield, Mo. There is little doubt but that both will be bound over and for that reason the promised confession of George Graham has been withheld, for fear that it might prejudice the public mind against them. After fourteen hours of cross examination the attorneys for the defense have been unable to shatter young Graham's testimony. Public opinion is changing and many now think that George Graham is innocent of the crime.

"A few short weeks ago and no 'pent-up' Utes contracted my powers; to-day a space 2x10 feet comprises my world. 'Imperial Caesar, dead and turned to clay, may serve to stop a crack to keep the wind away.' But yesterday he might have stood against the world; now none so poor to do him reverence.' Farewell; a long farewell to all my greatness. If there could be any lighter side to this subject, it would be to compare how faithfully Dickens has taken off in 'Bleak house' so many of my quondam friends. (Judge Baker, a combination of Turveydrop and Tullingshorn, with a very little of Sir Leicester Dedlock, baronet, Emma Molloy is my Lady Dedlock, Cora, a capital mixture of Hortense, the French maid, and Agnes Wickfield, in David Copperfield. Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McIntire, and others, are perfect Mrs. Jellybys, with their Booriboola-Gha missions.) A ministerial ex-friend in North town can find his prototype in Stiggins, in 'Pickwick.' Poor Sarah must stand for Dora in Copperfield, and myself—well, I guess Rip, in 'Great Expectations,' will about fit, because 'Rip' was brought up by hand, sor; and a mischief by hand."

"What a fool mixture this has all been! How true it is that 'in married life and married love, there's nae room for two.' How easily this all might have been avoided. And to think that now those who are, at least, as guilty morally as myself, should pose before the world as victims of my deception. That they should attempt by a useless vilification and abuse of myself to not only clear themselves, but subject me to a violent death, is proof, 'as clear as holy writ,' that their love for me, as Sarah said, was 'only a desire to gratify their unholy passion.' I wonder if Cora remembers what Sarah told her once; 'whisky sent George to prison once, and bad women will do it again.' Poor Sarah, I cannot now but believe that her love for me was more pure, true and steady, if not so ardent, as that professed by Emma and Cora. She was the steady flame, they the pyrotechnic display. If I could only forget, but I can not, not an hour in the day that I do not live over the past three years. They say I was the coolest one in the jail when the mob was surging around. The fools don't know that I would have welcomed a mob that would have ended this. But the knowledge that Emma and Cora should investigate and encourage my murder was crushing. I fought against believing it while there was a shred of hope, but the proofs are too overwhelming. They knew I would have given my life for them at any time, but to have them seek it is carrying self preservation too far. Just about one year ago that I went to Fort Wayne from Kansas. How glad baby Roy was to see 'papa,' and to throw his arms about me, and to think now that I shall never again feel his little loving arms about my neck, never again hear the dear little voice lip out, 'I love you so much, papa.' If I could only forget 'Backwards, turn backwards, oh, Time in your flight.' If time could be turned backwards two short years, what a change I would make in its history. Emma, in her letter, points me to 'the bar of God.' I can have no confidence in a religion which will allow her and Cora to implore me to tell the truth, and then endeavor to have me mobbed for fear I will tell the whole truth. There may be such a thing as 'religion, undefiled, pure and unspotted from the world,' but none of my Springfield acquaintances possess it. I hear Emma has written for and obtained 'certificates of character' from Washington, I suppose Darby, Brown Emmans and that Godly ilk signed it. (This is 'rote marksmanship') but I'll guarantee Allen, Fitch, Rector or Martha Weesner never indorsed it. What a travesty on religion, that God and morality crowd in Washington are. To paraphrase Patrick Henry, Darby had his Laner, Brown had his Spaulding, and Emmans may have his Bologue. If this be libel make the most of it." What a difference even now in our conditions. Emma and Cora are simply under guard, are allowed full and free communication with everyone, have complete use of the mails, and have a fair chance to make a defense. I am completely isolated, can see or talk with no one, and what defense is made for me is made in spite of every obstacle the prosecution and my co-defendants can throw in the way. I feel sometimes like writing in full a true and complete history of the last four years. Wouldn't it be sensational? I fancy many so called leaders in certain cities would 'call on the rocks and mountains to fall upon and cover them.' The north star, especially, would shine less brilliantly in Leavenworth, immediately afterwards (as Artemus Ward would say, this is a 'joke.')"

"ROME."

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger to Lecture at Library Hall.

Quite a number of prominent citizens recently signed a petition to Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, asking him to favor the people of Fort Wayne with his lecture on "Rome." The bishop has replied, and states that he will give the lecture at Library hall next Sunday evening, a week. A crowded house will greet the prelate, who is especially eloquent on this subject having been a resident of the eternal city for a year and very intimate with the reigning pontiff.

Captain Hugh H. Diehl last night arrested one Ike Fredericksen, wanted at Lafayette for grand larceny. Fredericksen used to live here and aside from this the matter is not of local interest, save that it credits Captain Diehl with a clever catch and much skill in locating the criminal and handing him over to the Lafayette officers.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

HOWARD

Succeeds Pope as Major General.

The Senate Establishes in a Bill the Great Cattle Drive Through Colorado.

The New Measure Will Have the Cowboy Approach Civilization—How He Acts.

WASHINGTON.

The New Cattle Drive—Howard Promoted.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the senate Mr. Blackburn presented two memorials of the legislature of Kentucky, one urging the improvement for navigation of the Licking river and the other urging the passage of a bill to prevent the retirement of Rear Admiral Jewett of the United States navy. They were referred.

The bill to establish a national live stock highway was read. The bill sets apart for ten years as such a highway public lands in range 41, along the east line of Colorado, averaging about two miles in width and was passed.

This bill brings east a new character, and it is reasonably certain that when the cowboy who chases the festive Texas steer comes to civilization he gets on the rampage and becomes no less a holy terror than the Texas steer himself. My first sight of the cowboy was on the train coming out here last spring. A band of them were returning home after a visit to the states.

THE COWBOY AT HOME.

They were winding up with one gorgeous lark. Their idea of fun was to prance through the train with loaded revolvers, firing out the windows. A train boy passed through the cars with a basket of peanuts for sale. The cowboys suddenly took it into their heads to sell out the peanut vendor's stock for him. They drew in their pistols from firing out the window, and brought them to bear on the passengers instead. They pointed the cold, persuasive barrel successively at every man in the train and ordered him to buy or be shot. There was one tall, thin, dyspeptic gentleman in black, evidently a minister, who was plainly outraged with this treatment. He raised his hands and lifted his eyes towards heaven, protesting, but it was no use. He was ordered to shell out and stop his row. He did it. So they went through the train till every point was sold. You will see from this what the cowboys' idea of a joke is.

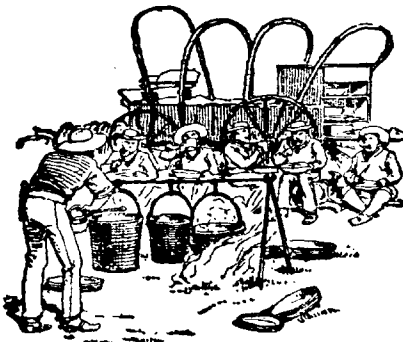

In a civilized region he is an uncomfortable creature to have around. But out on his own plains he is a picturesque looking object and he needs the wild life, the cowboy wears his hair long and a slouch hat upon his head. What he wears his hair long for nobody knows. A high Mexican saddle is girted around the shaggy pony, and the cowboy's blanket is strapped on behind. There is one thing about which I cannot make up my mind. That is, whether the cowboy is an imitation of the ideal figuring in the literature of Tequiquin Miller and Bret Harte, or whether there ever was a real, rip-roaring, wild man of the plains whom they described. To me the cowboy seems rather trying to live up to his blue china, as it were, and his blue china is a sort of dime novel hero.

"PROPPING AND CUTTING OUT."

In winter the cowboys have not much to do. The cattle roam over the plains at will, "hustling" for their living, as it is called, of it is, picking it up through the snow. They run down to skin and bone, and many freeze and starve to death. During these months the herder is in winter quarters. With the appearance of the grass in spring his activity begins. All the cattle are branded with their owner's mark. It is the work of the boys to select each man's out, lasso them as shown in the picture, and gather them in a herd to themselves. It is a work of difficulty and danger, with the wild, long-horned cattle; but the horses are trained to it. The rope is twenty to thirty feet long. The end of it is in a slip noose. This must be aimed and thrown exactly around the cow's horns. As the animal struggles and tries to pull away, the noose tightens, and the little horse drags the captive to its own herd. All are then driven to their several owners' ranches or herding grounds for the summer. The herder must remain with them night and day the season through. Watchmen must stay up with them in the night, to prevent stampedes from thunder storms or other causes of fright. A stampede of a drove of cattle is a serious business.

COWBOYS AT DINNER.

It is from lassoing of cattle that the expression "to rope in" comes. Another great occasion is the "rounding up." This is the process of selecting and capturing the animals chosen for market. The picture shows the cowboys' dinner at a round up. Yet another great time is when the calves are branded.

The life is full of wild excitement and danger. Some of the huge herds mount far up into the thousands in number. Six months in the year the herders are quite away from any of the influences of civilization. It is not strange that they become just what an untrained life, under such circumstances, would make them. When they are paid off the first thing many of them do is to go and spend every cent of their earnings in gambling, and for the chain lightning fire water, that is the staple in the western border towns.

This is said to be the beginning of one of the untamed cattle man's melodies, though I never heard him sing it:

"Oh, I'm a jolly cowboy, my age just twenty-three, My home is in the saddle, my life is wild and free. There is no happier life, my boys, as you all well do know, Than riding after cattle, on the plains of Mexico."

HOUSE.

In the absence of Speaker Carlisle, Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, was designated to preside and the house went into the committee of the whole, (Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, in the chair,) on the private calendar.

Nowadays a frequent and painful disease, rheumatism, can be permanently cured by Salvation Oil. All druggists keep it. Price 25 cents.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Rev. S. H. Troyer, of New Albany, Ind., states as follows how he saved himself from an attack which threatened serious results:

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It was seated in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain.

"My first dose of Athlophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and I took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without waking. I continued the use of Athlophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well."

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athlophoros, and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it."

"Athlophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arm and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athlophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried it for rheumatism and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athlophoros to my neighbors."

Trym cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

TALMAGE indorses Sam Jones.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND was forty-nine years old yesterday.

TWENTY-two states in the union have democratic governors.

The mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish Nationalist leader, is said to be sick and in destitute circumstances in New York City. She was once a Baltimore belle.

The democrats of Monroe, Bartholomew and Brown counties have been called to meet at Nashville in delegate convention Saturday, March 27, to nominate a candidate for joint senator for the district composed of the above counties.

A BOSTON writer declares it to be a matter of fact rather than of fancy that there is more nutriment in a dark than a white-shelled egg. The white of a white-shelled egg is like milk of lime-water, while that of dark eggs has substance, is gelatinous in appearance, and will hold together if lifted a few inches, and it is claimed, is one-third more valuable for any culinary purpose.

MALDEN, Mass., is very proud of its oldest citizen, Capt. Samuel Packard, who is just 100 years old. He was born in Rowley, Mass., and has lived under every President of the United States, being three years old when Washington was inaugurated. Before he was a captain he was a shoemaker, but afterward followed the sea and fought in the war of 1812. He was the father of twelve children, of whom ten lived to grow up.

A GEORGIA girl who is anxious to write a "continued story" for the Atlanta Constitution enforces her proposition by this clincher: "It would be the greatest thing ever done for the Constitution, for we would first put in a month's notice that a real and true life of several of our girls, for it is a true story that I wish to write. By saying 'tis by a Twigs County girl, everybody would be crazed to see it. I stayed at home one time a year ago and wrote for a certain paper and had it in a perfect boom."

JOHN G. SAXE, according to the Albany Journal, once found himself traveling on a railroad over which—strange to say, for he was phenomenally endowed in that respect—he had no pass. But when the conductor came along the genial poet, taking from his pocket five other passes and holding them like playing cards, inquired: "Conductor, do you play euchre?" "Yes; sometimes." "Well, if you had a hand like this"—showing the five passes—"what would you do?" "Pass!" said the guardian of the company's interests; and he passed.

In recent years San Francisco Chinamen have smuggled quantities of opium in tin cases made to resemble eggs, dipped in tar and rolled in sawdust. At another time they hid cylindrical tins in the bamboo legs of steamer chairs. Then they utilized the thick heels of Chinese slippers. Again, they saturated the flock of bedding with opium, and carried it ashore rolled in their mattresses. Their inventive capacity is prodigious, and keeps the revenue officers in a constant state of vigilance and suspicion, and so profitable is the opium traffic that probably, if one venture in five succeeds, the smugglers are well paid.

By the new process of toughening timber it is claimed that the effect produced upon whitewood is such that a cold chisel is required in order to split it. This result is accomplished by a special method of steaming the timber and submitting it to end pressure, technically "upsetting it." By this means the cells and fibers are compressed into one compact mass; and it is the opinion of those who have experimented with the process that wood can be compressed to the extent of some 75 per cent., and that some of the timber now considered unfit for use in such work as carriage building, for instance, can be made valuable by this means as a substitute for ash, hickory, etc.

There is a dispute as to the election of the republican candidate for sheriff of Howard county. Isaac Wright was nominated by ten majority, but a recount gave Sumption the nomination by three majority. Bad blood is the consequence.

The will of the late Rev. David Abel, of Burlington, New Jersey, recently probated, provides for the establishment of a Bible temperance school for the thorough classical education of young people of both sexes, at which the pupils may, by manual labor, pay such part of the school expenses as may be considered advisable. The executor is directed to devote as large parts of the grounds of the school as may be found advisable to the pasturing and propagation of goats, in order to encourage the use of their flesh as food in the place of that of swine.

The late Wendell Phillips appeared to be the only member of the John Phillips family who was particularly distinguished for talent. The father, who was the first Mayor of Boston, was a public-spirited citizen who creditably filled that position. A brother of Wendell, George W. Phillips, was a well-educated lawyer, but little known to the bulk of our citizens. He was, like his distinguished brother, a handsome man, of tall, elegant figure and dignified presence. It seems a little singular that these gentlemen, so healthy and well developed, should not have attained very old age. Wendell Phillips possessed the figure of an athlete, and he was noted for the springing elasticity of his step and general motions.

A VEGETABLE PATRIARCH.

The Mexican railway system has now been extended some sixty miles south of the capital, and American tourists should take the opportunity of visiting the village of Marie del Tule, in the state of Oaxaca, and take a look at a tree which Humboldt considered the "truest vegetable monument on earth." It is a cypress which is still growing, and which thirty years ago measured 42 feet in diameter, 146 in circumference, and 282 feet between the extremities of two opposite branches. When that old plant was young the cypress groves of Daphne were probably a little shadier than now, and the Mexican happy eagle may have roosted in its branches a thousand years before Abraham's father sold his stock farm at Ur in Chaldea.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

From present indications the Jeffersonville car works will not resume operations until summer, although they have everything in readiness to commence at any time.

All Played Out.

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well, can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind of played out, somehow." That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great anti-bilious remedy as well.

The fact has developed that deliberate starvation caused the death of Albert J. Gorgas, late clerk of the circuit court of Shelby county, who thought to restore his health by dieting.

A rather seedy looking citizen was invited by a patent right vender to take a look at his "machine at one of our hotels last evening. He made a critical examination of the contrivance, and made some inquiries which showed that he was "well up" in the application of mechanical principles in the construction of labor saving machinery, as well as illustrating the fact that shabby as he looked he knew more in a minute than the patent right man did in a month by the Cæsarean calendar. He declared the machine deficient in merit as well as in construction, and took strong grounds against innovations or absurd infringements of established methods. After making the patent man feel uncomfortably small, he took a drink and started up Calhoun street, singing:

"I'm thankful that the sun and moon Are both hung up so high. That no presumptuous hand can reach To tear them from the sky. For if he could I have no doubt But some reforming ass, Would recommend to pull them down And light the world with gas."

A NICE NUM.

Twelve Thousand Dollars for the Government Building.

This special dispatch from Washington explains itself:

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The secretary of the treasury to-day transmitted to the house of representatives estimates from the supervising architect of the treasury aggregating $150,000 for heating, hoisting and ventilating apparatus for 1877, with a request that congress appropriate that amount. Among the buildings to be benefited by this appropriation are those at Fort Wayne, Ind., $12,000; Columbus, O., $16,000; Toledo, $17,500.

A Birthday Celebration.

Gus. A. Helfrick, an employe of the Peters Box and Lumber company, of this city reached the twenty-first milestone on life's eventful journey yesterday, and celebrated the occasion in an appropriate and becoming style at No. 106 Barr street last evening. The festivities were enjoyed by a coterie of his intimate friends, who drank his health in aqua pura (with a slight flavor of malt and hops) amid the circling smoke and soothing fumes of fragrant Havanas, and who wished him many happy returns of the day, and all the joy, prosperity and happiness vouchsafed to mortals while sojourners on this mundane sphere. He is a young gentleman of the highest worth, possessed of all those excellent qualities of head and heart which go to make up true manhood, and the compliments paid him were all merited in an eminent degree.

STRIKES!

A Fight Results at Columbus, Ohio.

The Texas People Protest Against the Railroad Strikers and Could Like It.

Comes out of the Columbus Strike.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—The company ran one car over the line under the requirements of the charter to-day. The police assisted, and on the return trip the men endeavored to take possession of the car but were clubbed off by the police. One man was badly bruised. The mayor made a speech to the men, assuring them of his sympathy as long as they indulged in no violence. The mayor is not inclined to allow further police interference.

FARM HANDS STRIKE.

SEDALE, Mo., March 19.—In Pettis and Saline counties the farm hands have demanded an increase of from $15 per month and board to $20 per month and board and have got it. The organization is to be perfected and the projectors hope to have the demand become general throughout the state.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 19.—The citizens held a meeting last evening and protested against the substitution of the boycott and the prostitution of law and resolved that any unwarranted interference with the railroads of the state should meet with the condemnation of everyone.

STUDEBAKER STRIKE SETTLED.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Daily News South End, Ind., says: "A settlement of the Studebaker strike is about completed and work will be resumed Monday at a satisfactory adjustment of wages."

TRUENESS AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 19.—The street car employees have demanded twelve hours for a day's work exclusive of one hour for meals, two dollars a day for drivers on box cars and a sufficient reason for the discharge of every man. They request an answer by Tuesday.

INTERNAL WAR.

MILWAUKEE, March 19.—The Trades assembly adopted a resolution last night denouncing the Knights of Labor for the destruction of their cigar label in opposition to the wishes of the international union.

JAY GOULD LIKES IT.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 19.—The reports of the action of the Dallas Merchants' exchange and the citizens of Greenville, Tex., in passing resolutions denouncing the strikers were forwarded to Jay Gould here and he has just forwarded a telegram thanking the citizens for their kind words of encouragement and good advice.

He said the entire business of four states and one territory were completely paralyzed and millions of resident citizens are deprived of railway facilities on which their entire prosperity depends, and to the enjoyment of which they have legal rights regardless of any secret organization.

O'Connor as "Othello."

It was not a large house which greeted Mr. O'Connor at the Academy last night, but it was at times a very enthusiastic one and his performance of "Othello" appeared to afford them much pleasure. It was quite evident that the role is not as well suited to his style as others in which he will appear during his engagement, still he gave a careful and well studied performance. Mr. O'Connor will no doubt be seen to much greater advantage in "Richard III" and "Shylock," which he gives to-day and to-morrow. His support was in most instances good, particularly of Desdemona of Miss Marion Wallack. There is an almost universal demand for "Shylock" to-morrow evening, and it will probably be given then. There will be a matinee to-morrow afternoon.

Auditor Griebel, this morning, appointed Louis Schroeder, the ex-druggist, as assessor of Wayne township to succeed Henry Hitzman, who resigned on account of ill health. Mr. Schroeder is an active young man, thoroughly schooled in English and German, and a good business man, and he will make fair appraisal of city property. He filed his bond in the sum of $3,000 with J. F. W. Meyer and C. J. Schroeder as sureties.

The county commissioners adjourned yesterday to meet again April 15, and then settle with the outgoing trustees.

GRAHAM'S GUSH.

He Would Gladly Welcome a Mob Which Would Put an End to All.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 19.—Witness Brumley again took the stand to-day and his examination was resumed. No important testimony was given by him, excepting that he corroborated the story of Charlie, implicating Cora Lee and Mrs. Malloy.

The preliminary trial of Mrs. Emma Molloy and Cora Lee goes slowly on at Springfield, Mo. There is little doubt but that both will be bound over and for that reason the promised confession of George Graham has been withheld, for fear that it might prejudice the public mind against them. After fourteen hours of cross examination the attorneys for the defense have been unable to shatter young Graham's testimony. Public opinion is changing and many now think that George Graham is innocent of the crime.

"A few short weeks ago and no 'paul' up Upton contracted my powers; to-day a space 3x10 feet comprise my world. 'Imperial Caesar, dead and turned to clay, may serve to stop a crack to keep the wind away.' But yesterday he might have stood against the world; now none so poor to do him reverence." Farewell; a long farewell to all my greatness. If there could be any lighter side to this subject, it would be to compare how faithfully Dickens has taken off in 'Black House' so many of my quondam friends. (Judge Baker, a combination of Turveydrop and Tulliver, with a very little of Sir Leicester Deedlock, baronet, Emma Molloy is my Lady Deedlock, Cora, a capital mixture of Hortense, the French maid, and Agnes Wickfield, in David Copperfield. Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McIntire, and others, are perfect Mrs. Jellybys, with their Boorboola-Ghamses.) A ministerial ex-friend in North town can find his prototype in Stiggins, in 'Pickwick.' Poor Sarah must stand for Dora in Copperfield, and myself—well, I guess Rip, in 'Great Expectations,' will about fit, because 'Rip' was brought up by hand, sor, and a mighty hard hand."

What a fool-mixture this has all been! How true it is that in married life and married love, there's nae room for two. How easily this all might have been avoided. And to think that now those who are, at least, as guilty morally as myself, should pose before the world as victims of my deception. That they should attempt by a useless vilification and abuse of myself to not only clear themselves, but subject me to a violent death, is proof, 'as clear as holy writ,' that their love for me, as Sarah said, was 'only a desire to gratify their unwholesome passion.' I wonder if Cora remembers what Sarah told her once, 'whisky sent George to prison once, and bad women will do it again.' Poor Sarah, I cannot now but believe that her love for me was more pure, true and steady, if not so ardent, as that professed by Emma and Cora. She was the steady flame, they the pyrotechnic display. If I could only forget, but I cannot, not an hour in the day that I do not live over the past three years. They say I was the coolest one in the jail when the mob was surging around. The fools don't know that I would have welcomed a mob that would have ended this. But the knowledge that Emma and Cora should investigate and encourage my murder was crushing. I fought against believing it while there was a shred of hope, but the proofs are too overwhelming. They knew I would have given my life for them at any time, but to have them seek it is carrying self preservation too far. Just about one year ago that I went to Fort Wayne from Kansas. How glad baby Roy was to see 'papa,' and to throw his arms about me, and to think now that I shall never again feel his little loving arms about my neck, never again hear the dear little voice lip up to 'I love you so much, papa.' If I could only forget. Backwards, turn backwards, oh, Time in your flight. If time could be turned backwards two short years, what a change I would make in my history. Emma, in her letter, points me to 'the bar of God.' I can have no confidence in a religion which will allow her and Cora to implore me to tell the truth, and then endeavor to have me mobbed for fear I will tell the whole truth. There may be such a thing as 'religion, unadorned, pure and unspotted from the world,' but none of my Springfield acquaintances possess it. I hear Emma has written for and obtained 'certificates of character' from Washington. I suppose Drury, Brown, Emmons and that Godly ilk signed it. (this is 'rote sarkastikness') but I'll guarantee Allen, Fitch, Reuter or Martin Weesner never indorsed it. What a travesty on religion, that God and morality are in Washington are. To paraphrase Patrick Henry, Drury had his Laner, Brown had his Spalding, and Emmons may have his Boigne. If this be libel make the most of it. What a difference even now in our conditions. Emma and Cora are simply under guard, are allowed full and free communication with everyone, have complete use of the mails, and have a fair chance to make a defense. I am completely isolated, can see or talk with no one, and what defense is made for me is made in spite of every obstacle the prosecution and my co-defendants can throw in the way. I feel sometimes like writing in full a true and complete history of the last four years. Wouldn't it be sensational? I fancy many so called leaders in certain cities would 'call on the rocks and mountains to fall upon and cover them.' The southern star, especially, would shine less brilliantly in Leavenworth, immediately afterwards (as Artemus Ward would say, this is a joke.)"

"ROME."

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger to Lecture at Library Hall.

Quite a number of prominent citizens recently signed a petition to Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, asking him to favor the people of Fort Wayne with his lecture on "Rome." The bishop has replied, and states that he will give the lecture at Library hall next Sunday evening, a week. A crowded house will greet the prelate, who is especially eloquent on this subject having been a resident of the eternal city for a year and very intimate with the reigning pontiff.

Captain Hugh H. Diehl last night arrested one Joe Frederickson, wanted at Lafayette for grand larceny. Frederickson used to live here and aside from this matter is not of local interest, save that it credits Captain Diehl with a clever catch and much skill in locating the criminal and handing him over to the Lafayette officers.

HOWARD

Succeeds Pope as Major General.

The Senate Establishes in a Bill the Great Cattle Drive Through Colorado.

WASHINGTON.

The New Cattle Drive--Howard Promoted.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the senate Mr. Blackburn presented two memorials of the legislature of Kentucky, one urging the improvement for navigation of the Licking river and the other urging the passage of a bill to prevent the retirement of Rear Admiral Jewell of the United States navy. They were referred.

The bill to establish a national live stock highway was read. The bill sets apart for ten years as such a highway public lands in range 41, along the east line of Colorado, averaging about two miles in width and was passed.

This bill brings east a new character, and it is reasonably certain that when the cowboy who chases the festive Texas steer comes to civilization he gets on the range and becomes no less a holy terror than the Texas steer himself. My first sight of the cowboy was on the train coming out here last spring. A band of them were returning home after a visit to the states.

THE COWBOY AT HOME.

They were winding up with one gorgeous lark. Their idea of fun was to prance through the train with loaded revolvers, firing out the windows. A train boy passed through the cars with a basket of peanuts for sale. The cowboys suddenly took to their heels to sell out the peanut vendor's stock for him. They drew in their pistols from firing out the window, and brought them to bear on the passengers instead. They pointed the cold, persuasive barrel successively at every man in the train and ordered him to buy or be shot. There was one tall, thin, dyspeptic gentleman in black, evidently a minister, who was plainly outraged with this treatment. He raised his hands and lifted his eyes towards heaven, protesting, but it was no use. He was ordered to shut out and stop his row. He did it. So they went through the train till every peanut was sold. You will see from this what the cowboys' idea of a joke is.

In a civilized region he is an uncomfortable creature to have around. But out on his own plains he is a picturesque looking object enough. He rides the wild, bucking, tough, scrubby, untamed little Indian mustang pony, as if he and it made a centaur. Fixed in a coil to his saddle is the lasso or lariat with which he catches the wild cattle. The mustang, the cowboy and the Texas steer are all nearly equally wild. The cowboy wears his hair long and a slouch hat upon his head. What he wears his hair long for nobody knows. A high Mexican saddle is girted around the shaggy pony, and the cowboy's blanket is strapped on behind. There is one thing about which I cannot make up my mind. That is, whether the cowboy is an imitation of the ideal figure in the literature of Joaquin Miller and Bret Harte, or whether there ever was a real, rip-roaring wild man of the plains whom they described. To me the cowboy seems rather trying to live up to his blue china, as it were, and his blue china is a sort of dime novel hero.

"RIPING AND CUTTING OUT."

In winter the cowboys have not much to do. The cattle roam over the plains at will, "rustling" for their living, as it is called, that is, picking it up through the snow. They run down to skin and bone, and many freeze and starve to death. During these months the herder is in winter quarters. With the appearance of the grass in spring his activity begins. All the cattle are branded with their owner's mark. It is the work of the boys to select each mustang, lasso them as shown in the picture, and gather them in a herd to themselves. It is a work of difficulty and danger, with the wild, long-horned cattle; but the horses are trained to it. The rope is twenty to thirty feet long. The end of it is in a slip noose. This must be aimed and thrown exactly around the cow's horns. As the animal struggles and tries to pull away, the noose only tightens, and the WASHINGTON, March 19.—The house committee on elections to-day decided the Hurd-Romeis Ohio election case in favor of the sitting member, Romeis. Upon the motion to recommend the seating of Hurd, the yeas were 10 and nays 4. The motion to declare Romeis entitled to the seat was carried by 8 to 6.

NASAVILLE, Tenn., March 19.—A telegram from Spring City, Tenn., gives the details of the arrest of Miss Daisy Carroll for complicity in the embezzlement of about $100,000 from the Champion works at Springfield, Ohio. She is said to have been intimate with the confidential book keeper, Frank Jones. The books of the Champion company were found secreted in her house at Spring City and there is other evidence of her complicity. She will be conveyed at once to Ohio.

Socialist Parade.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. BRUSSELS, March 19.—The parade of unemployed socialists at Liege, the iron manufacturing centre of Belgium, last evening, resulted in disorderly demonstrations. The mob wrecked cafes and sacked shops. Several hundred socialists have been arrested.

Trouble Anticipated.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. BERLIN, March 19.—The National Zeitung and other papers contain similar articles to that of the Post of yesterday, attacking France. In military and political circles it is feared that M. De Freycinet will be powerless to oppose the desire of partisans for revenge.

A CLEAN $3,000

Awarded to W. H. Burger for the Loss of a Hand.

The damage suit of W. H. Burger vs. the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad has occupied the attention of the superior court for some days, and last evening the case was submitted to the jury. This morning that tribunal came in with a verdict for Mr. Burger, awarding him $3,000 for the loss of his right hand while in the service of the company. Judge L. M. Nixie was counsel for the plaintiff, and the verdict is a great victory for him, although Mr. Shober reported him "practically annihilated" yesterday.

Death of an old Citizen.

Died at the home of his son, on West Pontine street, about 12 o'clock last night, Mr. Frederick Meyer, aged seventy-eight years. Mr. Meyer was born at Die Lingen, Germany, and removed to Fort Wayne in 1850, where he has resided ever since.

Mr. Meyer is the father of Professor Charles Meyer, of the conservatory of music, and was a most estimable citizen, whose life has been useful and full of good work. He has hosts of old friends who will grieve at his loss.

The funeral will take place from the house Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Nowadays a frequent and painful disease, rheumatism, can be permanently cured by Serravallo's Oil. All druggists keep it. Price 25 cents.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain.

"My first dose of Athlophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and I took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without waking. I continued the use of Athlophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well."

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athlophoros, and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it."

"Athlophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose office is at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athlophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried it for rheumatism and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athlophoros to my neighbors."

"You cannot get a better testimonial of your druggist, we will send it to you with our regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall Street, New York."

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1888.

TAMMAGE indorses Sam Jones.

PRESIDENT CHEVLEMAN was forty-nine years old yesterday.

TWENTY-TWO states in the union have democratic governors.

The mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish Nationalist leader, is said to be sick and in destitute circumstances in New York City. She was once a Baltimore belle.

The democrats of Monroe, Bartholomew and Brown counties have been called to meet at Nashville in delegate convention Saturday, March 27, to nominate a candidate for joint senator for the district composed of the above counties.

A BOSTON writer declares it to be a matter of fact rather than of fancy that there is more nutriment in a dark than a white-shelled egg. The white of a white-shelled egg is like milk of lime-water, while that of dark eggs has substance, is gelatinous in appearance, and will hold together if lifted a few inches, and, it is claimed, is one-third more valuable for any culinary purpose.

MALDEN, Mass., is very proud of its oldest citizen, Capt. Samuel Packard, who is just 100 years old. He was born in Rowley, Mass., and has lived under every President of the United States, being three years old when Washington was inaugurated. Before he was a captain he was a shoemaker, but afterward followed the sea and fought in the war of 1812. He was the father of twelve children, of whom ten lived to grow up.

A GEORGIA girl who is anxious to write a "continued story" for the Atlanta Constitution enforces her proposition by this clincher: "It would be the greatest thing ever done for the Constitution, for we would first put in a month's notice that a real and true life of several of our girls, for 'tis a true story that I wish to write. By saying 'tis by a Twigs County girl, everybody would be amazed to see it. I stayed at home one time a year ago and wrote for a certain paper and had it in a perfect boom."

JOHN G. SAXE, according to the Albany Journal, once found himself traveling on a railroad over which strange to say, for he was phenomenally endowed in that respect—he had no pass. But when the conductor came along the genial poet, taking from his pocket five other passes and holding them like playing cards, inquired: "Conductor, do you play euchre?" "Yes; sometimes." "Well, if you had a hand like this"—showing the five passes—"what would you do?" "Pass!" said the guardian of the company's interests; and he passed.

In recent years San Francisco Chinamen have smuggled quantities of opium in tin cases made to resemble eggs, dipped in tar and rolled in sawdust. At another time they hid cylindrical tins in the bamboo legs of steamer chairs. Then they utilized the thick heels of Chinese slippers. Again, they saturated the flock of bedding with opium, and carried it ashore rolled in their mattresses. Their inventive capacity is prodigious, and keeps the revenue officers in a constant state of vigilance and suspicion, and so profitable is the opium traffic that probably, if one ventures in five seconds, the smugglers are well paid.

By the new process of toughening timber it is claimed that the effect produced upon whitewood is such that a cold chisel is required in order to split it. This result is accomplished by a special method of steaming the timber and submitting it to end pressure, technically "upsetting it." By this means the cells and fibers are compressed into one compact mass; and it is the opinion of those who have experimented with the process that wood can be compressed to the extent of some 75 per cent., and that some of the timber now considered unfit for use in such work as carriage building, for instance, can be made valuable by this means as a substitute for ash, hickory, etc.

There is a dispute as to the election of the republican candidate for sheriff of Howard county. Isaac Wright was nominated by ten majority, but a recount gave Sumption the nomination by three majority. Bad blood is the consequence.

The will of the late Rev. David Abel of Burlington, New Jersey, recently probated, provides for the establishment of a Bible temperance school for the thorough classical education of young people of both sexes, at which the pupils may, by manual labor, pay such part of the school expenses as may be considered advisable. The executor is directed to devote as large parts of the grounds of the school as may be found advisable to the pasturing and propagation of geese, in order to encourage the use of their flesh as food in the place of that of swine.

The late Wendell Phillips appeared to be the only member of the John Phillips family who was particularly distinguished for talent. The father, who was the first Mayor of Boston, was a public-spirited citizen who creditably filled that position. A brother of Wendell, George W. Phillips, was a well-educated lawyer, but little known to the bulk of our citizens. He was, like his distinguished brother, a handsome man, of tall, elegant figure and dignified presence. It seems a little singular that these gentlemen, so healthy and well developed, should not have attained very old age. Wendell Phillips possessed the figure of an athlete, and he was noted for the springing elasticity of his step and general motions.

A VEGETABLE PAINKILLER.

The Mexican railway system has now been extended some sixty miles south of the capital, and American tourists should take the opportunity of visiting the village of Marie del Tule, in the state of Oaxaca, and take a look at a tree which Humboldt considered the "holdest vegetable monument on earth." It is a cypress which is still growing, and which thirty years ago measured 42 feet in diameter, 146 in circumference, and 232 feet between the extremities of two opposite branches. When that old plant was young the cypress groves of Daphne were probably a little shadier than now, and the Mexican harpy eagle may have roosted in its branches a thousand years before Abraham's father sold his stock farm at Ur in Chaldea.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine blood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

From present indications the Jeffersonville war works will not resume operations until summer, although they have everything in readiness to commence at any time.

All Played Out.

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well, can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Feel all kind of played out, somehow. That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great anti-billious remedy as well."

The fact has developed that deliberate starvation caused the death of Albert J. Gorgas, late clerk of the circuit court of Shelby county, who thought to restore his health by doing.

The universal verdict: "The Hop Plaster is the best porous plaster ever made." Only 25 cents.

A rather seedy looking citizen was invited by a patent right vender to take a look at his "machine at one of our hotels last evening. He made a critical examination of the contrivance, and made some inquiries which showed that he was "well up" in the application of mechanical principles in the construction of labor saving machinery, as well as illustrating the fact that shabby as he looked he knew more in a minute than the patent right man did in a month by the Chas. Rees calendar. He declared the machine deficient in merit as well as in construction, and took strong grounds against innovations or absurd infringements of established methods. After making the patent man feel uncomfortably small, he took a drink and started up Calhoun street, singing:

"I'm thankful that the sun and moon Are both hung up so high, That no presumptuous hand can reach To tear them from the sky. For if he could I have no doubt But some reforming ass, Would recommend to pull them down And light the world with gas."

A NICE SUM.

Twelve Thousand Dollars for the Government Building.

This special dispatch from Washington explains itself:

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The secretary of the treasury to-day transmitted to the house of representatives estimates from the supervising architect of the treasury aggregating $150,000 for heating, hoisting and ventilating apparatus for 1877, with a request that congress appropriate that amount. A Birthday Celebration.

Gus. A. Helfrick, an employe of the Peters Box and Lumber company, of this city reached the twenty-first milestone on life's eventful journey yesterday, and celebrated the occasion in an appropriate and becoming style at No. 106 Barr street last evening. The festivities were enjoyed by a coterie of his intimate friends, who drank his health in aqua pura (with a slight flavor of malt and hops) amid the circling smoke and soothing fumes of fragrant Havanas, and who wished him many happy returns of the day, and all the joy, prosperity and happiness vouchsafed to mortals while sojourners on this mundane sphere. He is a young gentleman of the highest worth, possessed of all those excellent qualities of head and heart which go to make up true manhood, and the compliments paid him were all merited in an eminent degree.
